A MASTERFUL ADDRESS

Baccalaureate Sermon Begins Week of Interesting Events Closing Schools at Stillwell.

STILLWELL, May 19.—The closing of the Stillwell schools has been on this week, and as usual, is an interesting event. The commencement sermon was preached last Sunday morning by Dr. R. H. Kellogg of the John E. Brown college at Siloam Springs, Ark., and was a masterpiece, both in rhetoric and practical suggestions for the class graduating from the high school. The week has been taken up in examinations, and the incidents to the closing of the year's work, so familiar to the person who has been in school. The graduating exercises of the high school class were held Thursday night when the following program was rendered by the class: March, Mrs. Joe M. Lynch; chorus, "Call to Arms," by class; invocation, Rev. P. C. Schilling; salutatory address, Ruby Wall; chorus, "On a Summer Day," by class; piano solo, "Tilliana," Vernon Stiles; vocal solo, "Bitter Miss You," Helen Tinklebaugh; class prophecy, Callus Houseberg; vocal solo, "May Day Morn," Helen Woodruff; piano solo, "Lily of the Valley," Elaine Whitaker; class history, Bessie Gayler; valedictory address, Beatrice Dodge; class song, by class; presentation of diplomas, Superintendent J. G. Ward; chorus, "School Days Are Over," by class.

The following constitute the personnel of the class, there being 24 graduates, the largest number in the history of the school: Kathryn Bellamy, Paul Chambers, Mary Hill, Fred Mathis, Mary Lou Shannon, Vernon Stiles, Ruby Wall, Cleburne Woodruff, Wade Bradley, Beatrice Dodge, Callus Houseberg, Joe Patton, Clyde Shannon, Helen Tinklebaugh, Clyde Whyte, Helen Woodruff, Ruth Briggs, Bessie Gayler, Opal Littlejohn, Gladys Rogers, Dick Sheffield, Elaine Whitaker, Ruby White, Thelma York.

On Friday night was held the graduation exercises of those completing the eighth grade from the city school. The following boys and girls will complete the regular course, prescribed by the state for the eighth grade and received their diplomas: Richard Burch, Ode Danneberg, Carl Hill, Lawton Reed, Harold Worsham, Amy Flay Garrison, Lavette James, Dollie Smith, Jeffie Lee Samsat, Daley Walters, Violet Crocker, Harold Baine,

Harding Is Interested In Mexican Resolution

WASHINGTON, May 19.—President Harding is waiting with interest the text of the reported decisions by the Mexican supreme court bearing upon the alleged reactivity of article 27 of the Mexican constitution, it was learned at the White House today. Thus far, it was stated, the president has had no official confirmation concerning the character of the decisions. The president believes, however, that would need to be four additional decisions in addition to the one studied by the state department before anything definite could result, it was stated.
